

Table of Contents

On the Cover

Bobwhite quail are popular game birds across the South, but their numbers are declining. Research at MSU is helping build quail populations by restoring habitat. (Photo by Kirtley-Perkins)

Back Cover

The 2005 CVM Open House led to some unusual animal encounters. (Photo by Tom Thompson)

4 CVM radiology

Unit serves patients while supporting research.

6 Lean manufacturing

Practices developed at MSU pay off for state industry.

8 Producer input

North Mississippi group focuses on research and education needs.

9 Fish health

MSU-developed antibiotic will treat costly catfish disease.

10 Triple play

Champion mare produces three foals in one season with a little help from her friends.

12 CVM Open House

More than 2,000 attend annual event.

14 Nutrition pioneer

Dorothy Dickins championed healthy eating habits.

16 FOCUS

Teaching, research and outreach in the Division of Agriculture, Forestry and Veterinary Medicine.

22 Stimulating new research

Initiation funding spurs new projects.

24 MSU Alumnus

Jim Newsome leads Mercantile Exchange.

26 Restoring quail

Research helps bring back quail habitat.

28 4-H Museum

Displays will chronicle 4-H history.

29 Editorial

Interim dean discusses natural resource programs.

30 Breaking new ground

Meet our development partners.