

MISSISSIPPI LANDMARKS

Volume 4, Number 4

FALL 2008

A close-up photograph of a boll weevil, a brown beetle with a long snout, perched on a green cotton boll. The boll is covered in small dark spots. The background is dark, making the green cotton and the brown beetle stand out.

Boll weevil loses grip on cotton...Page 13

Research, Education and Outreach in the Division of Agriculture, Forestry and Veterinary Medicine

Mississippi State University