

4

8

12

14

22

Table of Contents

On the Cover

Harness racer Chad Bell trains at The Mississippi Horse Park, located south of the main MSU campus. More about harness racing is on page 8. (Photo by Bob Ratliff)

Back Cover

Campers test out the effects of mixing soda and a popular mint candy at the 4-H Technology and Expressive Arts Camp. (Photo by Kat Lawrence)

4 Hidden Treasure

A 350-acre area in Webster County contains plant and animal diversity similar to that found in the Appalachians.

6 Anniversary Blooms

The University Florist celebrates 75 years of serving the community and giving floral management majors unique learning opportunities

8 Tall Tales

Two MSU graduates are united by a common passion for local history.

10 Gobble, Gobble

MSU researchers work to determine if there is variability in wild turkey spring gobbling.

11 Green Economy

MSU forest economists measure the economic impacts of forestry's four major sectors.

12 Go Native

A MAFES survey collected data on whether or not the green movement is influencing the purchase and use of native plants.

14 Pecking Order

An MSU poultry science graduate reflects on her educational experience and career in the poultry industry.

16 Focus Section

DAFVM's many summer camps offer the state's youth fun, educational and challenging activities.

22 Ant Study

Two MSU researchers conducted a yearlong survey of ant species at the Noxubee National Wildlife Refuge.

24 Research Dreams

A Greenville native follows his dream to manage an MSU research farm.

26 George County

Annual festivals and wholesale nursery businesses attract visitors from around Mississippi to George County.

27 Landmarks Editorial

MSU Extension's Family and Consumer Science programs focus on educating and supporting community development.

28 News Notes

Read the latest news of people and activities in the Division of Agriculture, Forestry and Veterinary Medicine.

30 Building Goals

Two important DAFVM renovation and construction projects need funding support.